

Sharing Your Data

DATA SECURITY

The sharing of your data

Companies can share your data, providing you give them permission to do so.

This is usually contained in the Terms and Conditions section that you agree to when you sign up to use the service.

This is a legal agreement between you and the company as to how they can use your data.

Terms and Conditions

Have YOU ever read the Terms and Conditions of
Facebook, Twitter,
Instagram,
WhatsApp?

The sharing of your data

Most people will never read the Terms and Conditions that they are signing up for.

Most people will not know what they are agreeing to allow a company do with their data, and you may be shocked to find out exactly what you are agreeing to if you want to use a service like Facebook or Instagram.
